

ALL IS QUIET; MEMBERS GONE

Will Find Opinion of Their Constituents Before Returning To Madison In April.

IMPORTANT LEGISLATION COMING

Work Thus Far Has Really Been That Of Preparation For The Real Business Of The Present Session.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 29.—The capitol is practically deserted. There are a few members who have not gone home, but they will all be gone by tonight. The vacation until April gives many of the members an opportunity to place their business affairs in shape for the remainder of the session, which every one thinks now will last until June or July. In fact, the talk of an extra session next fall is seriously discussed by some who do not see their way out of the present pile of bills that must all be considered. The important legislation will all come later. In fact, it is very doubtful if any of this will be cared for until after the United States Senatorship is out of the way for good. Talk as they will, the members are much worried by the question and those who have not already declared themselves are continually harassed by solicitors for their vote.

Ask Opinions.
Many of the members will try and discover the sentiment in their respective districts for the Senatorship while home this next week. Whether this will have any bearing upon the final result is not known. Lenroot is in the field to stay. There is no question about this. So is Stephenson. In fact, some of the wise ones profess that Stephenson will fight Lenroot so bitterly that the Superior man will not get it no matter which way it goes. Esch and Cooper are both nodding towards the toga with eager eyes watching for any let-up in the fight to slip in and claim a share. No one talks Houser any more, but the Mondovi man would like to be considered just the same. Hatten has about shot his bolt and his strength is confined to his few enthusiastic followers. On a break from either Lenroot or Stephenson, however, he would be the gainer. Of all the men talked of Davidson, the unavowed candidate, appears to have the best showing.

Busy as Bees
Just before the members went home came the conference at which some fifty-one members of the legislature were in attendance. All were not the radicals and some who were present are known to favor candidates whose names have not been mentioned, so not much importance is attached to this gathering. It, however, shows the spirit. "The candidate must bear the stamp of La Follette." The wise figures are trying to make some connection between La Follette's sudden return from his western lecturing tour and the Senatorial selection. Whether this will be able to be done is not known. La Follette is in poor health and the past winter has been a hard one upon him. It is possible he has taken this time to return to Madison for a real rest and will have nothing to do with the legislature beyond visiting with members who may return before he leaves. The lieutenants were busy as bees lining up this member or that as they left for home, but the alignment may all be changed before they reassemble.

PROHIBITION AND REFORM AS ISSUES

Early in the coming week the spring elections will be held throughout Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas and a number of other states in this part of the country. In Chicago the mayoralty contest is one of more than ordinary interest, the street (railway) franchises being the issue at stake. Everywhere there are indications that prohibition and reform are the chief issues in the municipal contests, this being true to a greater extent apparently than has ever before been the case.

EATING OF UNLEAVENED BREAD BEGINS TONIGHT

Hebrews Will Live On Matzoths And Unfermented Liquors For Next Eight Days.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, March 29.—Matzoths appear upon the table of every orthodox Hebrew this evening, when the Feast of the Passover begins, and for eight days the faithful are debarred from using food and fermented liquors.

"Pasach," the Feast of the Passover, is in commemoration of the night when the Lord, smiting the firstborn of the Egyptians, "passed over" the houses of the Children of Israel. The celebration is always held during the full moon of the month known as Nissan. There is much ceremony connected with the Seder, or opening festivity this evening, and there is ceremony also in connection with cleansing the homes, storing away the ordinary table and kitchen utensils, so that the ones dedicated to service for the Passover time may not be contaminated. There are hundreds of people employed for many months in about forty bakeries in the metropolis. One large establishment on the East Side turns out for the Passover season about 2,500,000 pounds of matzo and matzo meal, which is made by pulverizing the matzo, and is used instead of flour all through the Passover time. This concern sells its product not only to consumers and dealers in this city, but sends matzo to all parts of the United States, and large quantities to Cuba, Porto Rico and South America.

In many of the Jewish homes the unleavened bread is not entirely dispensed with in Passover time. But among the orthodox Jews the custom is to use nothing but unleavened bread, strictly adhered to, and the matzo consumed by the orthodox Jews are nearly all made in the small bakeries on the lower East Side, because the larger establishments do not conform strictly enough to the rabbinical laws governing their making.

BURGLAR SCARED OUT OF THE BAACK STORE

Was Packing 175 Pairs of Gloves and Silk Handkerchiefs in Suit Case When Interrupted.

When William A. Drummond, clerk at the Frank H. Baack clothing store at 22 West Milwaukee street, started to unlock the iron shutters in the rear of the establishment about seven o'clock this morning, he discovered that he had been anticipated in the errand and that one of the windows were open. Further investigations revealed a suitcase lying on the floor near the glove counter, and containing 175 pairs of the best goods in the store. All the silk handkerchiefs in the place had also been assembled near by but it appeared that the burglar had for some reason or other made a hasty exit before his collection was completed. A careful search failed to show that anything had been taken from the store. It was later learned that Watchman George H. Palmer had tried the door-knob and turned on the lights about midnight. The officer saw nothing suspicious from the street, but it is now believed that the burglar was crouching behind the glove-case at the time and fearing that he had been observed, lost no time in making his getaway. About five o'clock this morning Officer Patrick Fanning observed a man in a gray coat loitering about the alley in the rear and shadowed him to a saloon. He entered and looked the individual over carefully, but inasmuch as he knew nothing of the attempted robbery and the stranger did not notice to further excite his suspicions, made no arrest. The rear window of the store was left unlocked and the catches of the iron window shutters were evidently unfurnished by the use of a thin steel rod. It is believed that the criminal had an accomplice and a one-legged shoe-string and pencil peddler, who was unable to give a good account of himself, was this morning arrested on suspicion.

The center of the highway is washed out and repairs cannot be made until the soil dries up.

A Long Paid Pension.

The revolution put an end to much personal and family history in France. It spared the pension of Lord Shelburne, Abbe Morelet and, as it now appears, also that accorded in 1757 to the "posterity" of one killed in shooting by the dauphin, as to which the council of state of the republic has just pronounced a decision.

References to Age.

It has come to be a piece of rudeness to question one on age; it is tactful to ignore the delicate subject altogether, and accept what is offered by word of mouth or appearance.

Women as well as men are as old as they look and seem, these days, and it we can manage to dress in a fashion that has no hint of age about it, we can pass muster among the keenest-eyed.

No Man Indispensable.

No man is indispensable. It is well to think of that, for it teaches us humility, whose sweet breath fans many another virtue into flame.

WORST CLIMATES ON EARTH.

Globe Trotter's Recollections of Three Unendurable Regions.

A harsh, raw wind was blowing. Now and then a flurry of icy rain fell. The streets were ankle deep in slush.

"Speaking of rank climates," said a globe trotter as he laid on a fresh log. "I have experienced the three worst."

"Of these three, unspeakable climates, I give the palm to the Straits of Magellan. There it rains on an average 350 days in the year. The wind blows a hurricane from January to December. The thermometer never rises; much above the freezing point. A year round of raw, bitter days of rain and snow."

"Next comes Sierra Leone, on the African west coast. That low-lying, marshy region has an average temperature of 81 degrees and the annual rainfall is 189 inches—enormous. There are, too, the 'smokes.' These are mists, smelling like oyster mud, that rise continually from the marshes, giving marsh fever to nine out of ten of the white men that breathe them. A year round of hot and sticky days, with vile-smelling clouds of mist and whirling clouds of mosquitoes."

"Last come the high table lands of central Asia, where the lack of moisture in the air makes the days Saharan and the nights arctic. Days like a red-hot furnace, nights like a January blizzard—before this range of temperature no human constitution can stand up."

Greatness.

If a man be merely great, he stands a chance of getting to be understood during his lifetime, particularly if he be great enough to knock the world rather heavily between the eyes. But if he be both great and good, he will have to wait until after he is dead for his recognition.—Puck.

Trade-Mark of a Man.

Swearing as a habit is the mark of the imbecile, the vulgarian or the blackguard. But there is something wrong with the man from whose lips there never has sprung an oath unaided and unexpected, but resonant with the full strength of resentment, indignation or the note of strife.—New York Mail.

Art of Conversation.

We are born to inquire after truth; it belongs to a greater power to possess it. It is not, as Democritus said, hid in the bottom of the deeps, but rather elevated to an infinite height in the divine knowledge.—Michael De Montaigne.

The law requires National banks to invest at least 25 per cent of their capital in government bonds, which are received by the government as collateral security for circulating notes. LEFT NOTHING FOR HEIRS.

Eccentric Frenchman Carried Resentment to the Grave.

There has just died at Belloy, France, an old man of 72, who during his lifetime was notorious for his eccentric and miserly habits, though he was in possession of an income of $4,000. His funeral was attended by a large number of relatives, who were astonished to discover only a few coupons in the house after the funeral. The will was then opened, and it read as follows: "My dear relatives: I am afraid you are going to be disappointed. I know that none of you have any sort of affection for me, and that if you come to my funeral it will be in the hope of dividing up between you whatever I may leave behind me. I now inform you that I have left no money whatever. I sank the whole of my fortune some years ago in a life annuity. All the money that remained over, and above what I spent of the annuity I have given away or burned. I hope this will be a little surprise for you." A search revealed, however, $1,000 worth of annuity stock, the coupons of which appeared to have remained unpaid, but on going to the bank to have these coupons cashed the heirs discovered that the coupons had been paid, but at the special request of the old gentleman, who had given a separate receipt for each coupon, they had not been canceled. "This is only a little surprise I am keeping back for my heirs," he said. It appears that on the occasion of the annual festival the old man deliberately burned $10,000 worth of bank notes, which he found he had been unable to spend.

Where the Gold Goes.

Egypt is having a boom, and that explains in part the old mystery where all the gold goes to. There is a crazy land speculation in Cairo, the cotton crop is increasing at good prices, the area of arable land is increased by the new Nile dam, rain is more common from the same cause. And gold is being hoarded in the oriental way usual when times are good. A consular report says that nearly $200,000,000 was sent from London recently, but it has all been absorbed. The sellers of the cotton crop have the money hoarded in their houses. The gold-beaters' bazaar is crowded all the time and it is estimated that each week many pounds sterling in gold coin are melted or beaten into bracelets, necklaces and chains. That gold is always hoarded in Egypt is proved by the fact that some George III. sovereigns are coming into circulation.

HUMAN BRAIN A PHONOGRAPH.

Takes Records of Environments for Reproduction.

Briefly, the procedure is this. The operator being given the attention of the subject, places in his mind the idea of sleep—which state the object passes into at the moment of the complete absorption of his attention by the operator. In other words, the operator has completely absorbed the environment of the subject, or at least his power of registration—normal sleep being a nonregistering state of mind. The part of the brain capable of receiving impression being no longer active, what is left? The accumulated records of the previous environments of the individual. As the original record was made by the impression of the combined report of an environment made by the senses, a record of a cylinder may be made by a word picture appealing to as many of them as possible. To the suggested environment the brain reacts with whatever record it has on its cylinders. The subject is not thinking what the operator is "willing" him to do, as is popularly supposed, nor is there new mental action on his part; he is simply reemploying old records put in place by a recall of the environment which gave rise to them. Under hypnosis nothing not already in the brain can be taken out, nor can anything new be put into the brain. T. Gilbert White, in the Metropolitan Magazine.

Missionaries for the East.

If the missionary in a land like China is to be a success, he must be a leader of men. We must meet the clever oriental on his own ground, with men as well trained as he is, and such training is not to be secured by a short course in a theological college. —F. A. McKenzie, in The Sunday Strand.

How the Chinese Use Salt.

There is never any salt on a Chinese dinner table; they consider the finest powered salt to be still too coarse to be eaten uncooked. A small saucer of a very salty sauce stands by each plate, and if the food is not sufficiently salty for the diner's taste, some of this salt is added.

SPORTING REVIEW.

Jack Palmer, English Heavy, Here to Fight for Title.

MAHER'S LATEST VICTORY.

American Swimmer Is Training For Great Feat—Palmer Says Gunner Moir Beat Him Unfairly—Was Formerly a Miner—His Career.

Jack Palmer, the English heavy-weight pugilist, who arrived in America recently, is the first of his class to look for rug glory on this side of the Atlantic since the days of Charley Mitchell.

The aspirant for championship honors is five feet ten and a half inches in stature and in condition weighs 170 pounds. Broad shouldered, a trifle lanky, but compactly framed, with a clean, solid, symmetrical neck, sandy and reddish complexion and hair to match, blue eyed and well dressed, the light-heavyweight looks as if he could keep his temper even if most of the hitting was coming his way.

The eyes show humor. Speech and a good natured way of looking at things, as well as complexion, would almost make one believe Palmer had Irish ancestry. He sizes up as an old fashioned, self-reliant, handy man with his fists who would give the other fellow something to do.

"I would like to fight O'Brien," said Palmer. "I will give Philadelphia Jack O'Brien the first chance. Failing O'Brien, I will take on anybody in the world. Jeffries or Squires preferred. The fight must be for the best purse from anybody that I can get." O'Brien didn't give me a fair chance, for he left Newcastle on a midnight train after we had posted $1,000." Palmer claims he lost the decision to Heavy-weight Gunner Moir on a "foul" that was not a foul.

Palmer is now twenty-eight years old. He used to be a miner and has won forty-eight or fifty fights. As a pitman he fought with bare knuckles for small purses and has been groomed for hard battles.

In competition he has knocked out "Slouch" Dixon and among many others Jack Scale and Ben Taylor. If nothing offers in the east he will visit Los Angeles.

Palmer's name in private life is John Liddell.

"I'm sensible about my training," said Palmer. "I work in the morning and in the afternoon do a little ball punching."

Announcement is made by Secretary Moore of the Narragansett Park Trotting association, Providence, R. I., that the Park Brew stakes of $5,000 will be for the free for all pacing class when the grand circuit meeting is held this season.

The purse is the richest ever offered for so fast a class, the previous stakes amounting to $1,500 and $2,000. The entries for the event close April 23.

The stake has previously been offered for pacers around the 2:10 mark. A unique feature of the event is the fact that the entrance fee will be on the handicap plan, according to the records of the horses. The slower the record the less the owner has to pay.

Danny Maher, the American jockey, won the Liverpool Spring cup recently on Bridge of Canny. The Liverpool Spring cup is a handicap for three-year-olds and upward, one mile and three furlongs.

The result of the race was as follows: Lord Derby's Bridge of Canny (Maher); first; G. Walmesley's Wild Aster, second; H. Escott's Cadwal, third. Sixteen horses started.

This was Maher's first chance during the present season. The betting was 100 to 14 against Bridge of Canny, 20 to 1 against Wild Aster and 10 to 1 against Cadwal.

England and Our Tennis Players.

An English sporting writer says:

"The news from the States that Beals C. Wright and Raymond D. Little will be on the American lawn tennis team which is to compete for the Dwight Davis trophy has been received with pleasure among English tennis experts. Both men have played here and have won high esteem as experts of the first rank, as sportsmen and personally. The third member of the American team, Karl H. Behr of Yale, is not so well known, but it is acknowledged that if he is up to the level of his two companions the Americans will have an excellent chance to carry back the cup."

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

West Tears Off a Baseball Yarn and Manhandles the Scribes.

A player who was with the Evansville (Ind.) club of the Central league last season tells how a "kid" catcher worked the late Mike Kelly's old trick of throwing a potato to the outfield so that a base runner would come in from third thinking the ball had been thrown wild.

"Our catchers were all laid up," says the player, "and we had a kid catching for us. During a fanning bee one of

HE THREW A POTATO INTO THE OUTFIELD, the Terry Hauty fellows was telling about Kelly's stunt. The kid inquired carefully as to just how it was worked.

"It can't be done," he said.

"It was done," hotly answered the man telling the story.

"The coil didn't argue the question, but when the game started threw a potato with all his strength to the outfield. The Terry Hauty chap who had been telling the story dug for home from third. The kid tagged him out with the ball."

"I just wanted to see for myself. It is a good trick," explained the catcher, while the admirer of Mike Kelly just stood around and tossed words at the air."

The Hot Springs constable who arrested six bookmakers was "doped" by them as a long shot.

The spring training trip season for major league baseball teams is always balled with ecstatic ecstasy by the ball scribes, for then it is that they are given an unlimited expense money and a license to travel with the home teams on their long jaunts across country to the south, to California or, peradventure, to peppery Mexico.

The scribes work very hard on these trips. The accompanying picture, drawn from a photograph, of course, shows a bunch of them at their busiest moment. We all know that to be a success in any branch of work a man must have "capacity." The "capacity" of the ball scribes has never been sneered at by people who know them.

I once knew a ball scribe who was sober all through a spring training trip. Honest I did, and the managing editor "fired" him on his return home because his "copy lacked imagination." The other scribes are trying to escape his fate.

WILLIE WEST.

Ruelbach Must Play With Cubs.

The national baseball commission handed down a decision refusing the claim of Pitcher Ruelbach of the Chicago Nationals that he is a free agent to baseball and at liberty to sign wherever he pleases. Ruelbach claimed his last year's contract was only for one year and that he was not tendered any new contract to sign for this year, therefore that the Chicago club has no longer any claim on his services. The commission decided that his contract is for three years and that therefore no new contract was necessary.

JOHN SMITH'S BUSY DAY.

Certainly Accomplishes Much in the Twenty-Four Hours.

"The person in this town that arouses my profoundest respect," said the gray-headed New York man, "is John Smith. I admire him because he accomplishes so much. No other man that I know of performs one half the stunts that are credited to Smith. A study of yesterday's news reports reveals how prodigious are his labors. According to the papers, he began the day—say about three a.m.—by shooting a burglar. At six o'clock he scolded himself with a pot of hot coffee, and at ten o'clock he fell into a coal-hole in Tenth avenue. But not even these disturbances impaired Smith's vigor, for after repairing damages he found time to figure as a principal in two weddings and one divorce. Also he appeared in a police court on a charge of arson, was a witness at two trials, attempted to cut his throat with a razor, drove a runaway team hitched to a pickle wagon, and as a wind-up to his activities was run in on a charge of disorderly conduct. All of which, it strikes me, constitutes a pretty strenuous day even for a Smith."

WHAT GOOD ROADS COST.

Yorkshire (England) Paid $910,000 for Repairs Last Year.

Interesting facts as to the cost of main road maintenance in the county of Yorkshire, England, are sent by Consul Walter C. Hamm of Hull. The roads were well constructed originally and are well cared for now. It is a rare sight to see a rutty or muddy country road in the neighborhood. Most all of them are macadamized, well drained and kept in good repair. As a consequence one horse can draw a load which would require two or three horses over the usual country road in America. There are about 1,100 miles of road in the county, and the cost of the roads has increased from $734,000 in 1895 to $910,000 in 1906; and the cost per mile from $654 to $832 in the same period. There is a constant tendency to increase in the cost of maintenance, but this increase is, in part, accounted for by the construction of footpaths and the placing of granite "setts" to protect the roads from injury by trolley lines.

THE CITY CAMPAIGN

The real issue of the present campaign appears to be the election of city clerk. Up to a few days ago it appeared as though Mr. Badger, the republican nominee, would be re-elected without any opposition. Now, however, the work being done in behalf of Frank L. Smith, the eleven-hour democratic candidate, has alarmed friends of Mr. Badger. Badger has long served the city as city clerk and is an able and painstaking official. In answer to this argument the democratic leaders say that Mr. Smith has ability for the work and would make as painstaking an official as Badger. Party politics appear to have been lost sight of in this contest and while Mr. Badger should receive the solid republican support he will doubtless lose somewhat and fall below the vote cast for Mr. Heddles, his team-mate on the ticket. Badger's election should follow as a sequence of the support he received at the primaries.

NO BUNKO GAME

No, there is no bunko game going on at Madison. It is straight reform politics. This selection of the next United States Senator is a matter in which a few men are interested. Only a few—and these few must all wear the badges of reform pinned on their coats. No conferences are to be held where any but the chosen few will be admitted. It is a close corporation. The idea of reform is first, the wishes and best interests of the state second. Keep it up, gentlemen. Keep it up. Keep on with the reform. Make Wisconsin a perfect state. Drive out the industries, compel the railroads to operate at a loss and then see the grass grow. Wisconsin has gone through one such period during the Granger movement, but the people awoke before it was too late then, and it is to be hoped they will again.

HEMINGWAY'S OPPOSITION

The opposition to the re-election of C. H. Hemingway, for county school superintendent, appears to be based upon personal grounds. Hemingway has dared to do his duty by the taxpayers of the county regardless of the wishes of certain men who wished to have their ideas inculcated into the school regime. For this Mr. Hemingway is being bitterly opposed. Nothing can be said detracting from his worth as a school superintendent and his opponents are having hard work to find anything to induce the voters to desert him. Mr. Hemingway has served the county faithfully as a school superintendent and for this reason he should be re-elected.

MUD-SLINGING

Chicago is having a fair example of what a mud-slinging campaign can do. For a first-class article of filth read the utterances from the pen of the Hearst hirelings and then wonder if the people of Chicago will stand for such stuff. Dunne's campaign must be a desperate one to have to send for Hearst, but now that Little Willie and his Happy Hooligan crowd have arrived the mud-slinging is more disgusting than ever.

Harry Thaw is now being heard by the sanity commission and upon their opinion rests his fate. If insane he goes to an insane asylum and if not Delmas will probably be able to free him—Delmas and Thaw's plucky wife who has gained respect despite her unsavory past.

Tuesday is election day. While there are not many contests on, it is probable the vote will be a fair one. The voters want to get ready for that law which will cause them to be taxed if they do not vote which the legislature is considering.

Today is Good Friday. All over the civilized world the day is observed and every businessman should pause for at least a moment to consider its significance.

Roumania is reaping the harvest sowed so many years ago. While the world waits results the end is seen and Russia's domain will doubtless be increased by the broad acres of King Charles.

Sherbie Becker spoke in Chicago yesterday and told his audience what a good friend Mr. Busse was. Good for Sherbie. The only question is, did Bill Hooker or Ellis write his speech.

The legislators are sure the question of the election of a United States Senator is not hurting their ability to pass good stringent reform laws.

Perhaps Jerome's move for a "sanitary" examination of New York would meet with more approval than did his request for a sanity commission for Thaw.

Carnegie is optimistic. He believes the last stock flurry which ruined hundreds was only a healthy eruption and will break up the fever of the patient—the public.

Madison will not be peaceful for a few days at least. The legislators have gone home for the Easter holidays.

Thaw will be present at all the sessions of his sanity investigating board. If he is insane he wants to know it.

Ft. Dodge, Iowa, girls object to being married by official edict. They want to have something to say about their future.

That Balkan-war cloud has appeared and attention is diverted from the peanut political fighting of Central America.

The Vienna dressmakers have won their strike for high wages. Every one knows who will foot the bills.

Only the Second and Fourth wards offer any contests for aldermanic contests.

War is now on in Persia, Honduras, Roumania, Chicago and the Russian Douma.

A parrot and cat existence is far better than a dog and cat life.

Two days more of March. That blizzard may come yet.

PRESS COMMENT

More "Snap" Wanted.
Eau Claire Telegram: There should be no disposition, merely for the sake of finding fault, to criticize members of the Wisconsin legislature or anybody else, but many would doubtless be glad to see a little more "snap" put into the senatorial affair at Madison and something done towards definite results.

A Loud Call to Duty.
Superior Telegram: The city of Fort Dodge, Iowa, has an ordinance recently enacted imposing a fine of $10 to $100 on every able-bodied and mentally sound man between the ages of 25 and 45 years who is unmarried and fails to get married. There is a vagueness as well as a spirit of levity about the ordinance which suggests that it was not expected to stand a test of its validity if any bachelor to whom an attempt should be made to apply it should take the matter into the courts.

Tantrums of Small Moment.
Chicago Chronicle: If it is not just to get mollycoddled and to tyrannize over the Washington mamma that Wall street throws itself on the floor and kicks up its heels and yells outrageously now and then it is for a less worthy purpose.

It looks a good deal just now as though this latest outburst of screams and general tantrums by the Wall street bad boy was intended to punish the administration for refusing a little while ago to accept railroad bonds as security for public money deposited in banks.

The refusal was right. It is only by extremely forced construction that it is possible to find in the law any authority for accepting railroad bonds or any other than United States bonds as security for government money deposited in banks. Besides, it is unsafe even if the authority exists.

This is Holy Week.

Sheboygan Journal: The week that began yesterday is the most solemn and sacred in the Christian year. All over the earth the final acts in the great tragedy at Jerusalem almost 2,000 years ago are being rehearsed in music and in sermons. It is a season of religious revival and of solemn contemplation among those who are believers in and followers of the Christian religion.

There are undoubtedly many persons who are sincere in their disbelief in the principles and teachings of Christianity, and who do not believe all of the historical facts maintained by it. Many persons cannot see the meaning of the so-called "Holy Week" and the symbolism of Good Friday and Easter. Whatever may be one's individual belief, it is difficult to understand how anyone can fail in a measure to enter somewhat into the spirit of the churches and the church world at this season. A period of contemplation is a good thing for everyone. It does not hurt anybody to be serious for at least one week of each year.

"Same Old Story"

A patient recently consulted Dr. Richards about needed family work. Had been paying $10 each for gold crowns and was tired of the burden.

Said had been doing so for social acquaintance and friendship sake, but couldn't see the use any more of paying twice as much for work as was necessary.

This is the way people look at it. When they think.

And the time most people think is when the bill is presented for payment. You may have the very best dental work obtainable in the city for $5 a tooth and you may pay $10 for the very same if you go blindly along. It's all in

His release was effected by the payment of $100 and $64 costs. The second charge against him appears to have been withdrawn. As soon as he was liberated Donahoe departed for his home in the north.

The Anarchists Again. Milwaukee Sentinel: Steady going Milwaukee has been entertaining, almost unawares, that queer brace of angels, Emma Goldman and her elective affinity, Herr Berkman, whose other title to distinction was an attempt some years ago to murder a man guilty of the heinous crime of being a prominent member of the "capitalistic" class—in short, of being a very large employer of labor.

Queer folk, these anarchists, and a strange form of doctrinal dementia. The larger an employer of labor a man is, and the greater the aggregate sum he pays out in wages, the greater in their jaundiced eyes is his crime against society; and while holding fast and stretching to the limit the privilege of free speech secured to them by the American constitution and government, they use that privilege to denounce and preach the overthrow of the very government they appeal to for protection.

When President McKinley was murdered and popular vengeance threatened them, these denouncers of the law promptly scuttled behind the skirts of the law. But one is not to expect logic or consistency from these doctrinal Bedlamites. To see everything topsy-turvy and dwell in a perpetual brain storm of crank ideas and inverted principles belongs to anarchism. It is the mark of the disease, as the hideous throat deformity is the mark of goitre.

The Goldman has come and gone, without receiving even the free advertisement of a little supervisory attention from the public, which must have been disappointing. Sober and prosperous Milwaukee is a poor field for her propaganda, and as a novelty or notoriety the woman is about worn out.

EXAMINATION OF THAW IN PRIVATE

COMMISSION BEGINS ITS WORK BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

HE STANDS ORDEAL WELL

Scope of Inquiry Limited to Defendant's Ability to Instruct His Counsel in Rational Manner.

New York, March 29.—Harry K. Thaw for two hours Thursday submitted himself to a running fire of questions from the three men appointed by Justice Fitzgerald as a commission in lunacy to determine his present state of mind. The examination was conducted behind closed doors and when a few minutes before five o'clock in the afternoon an adjournment was taken until ten o'clock Saturday morning, no one connected with the hearing before the commissioners would discuss the details of the inquiry.

Thaw went willingly and confidently before his judges, and when the two hours' secret session was concluded his attorneys appeared with smiling faces and declared they were more than satisfied with the course of the proceedings. District Attorney Jerome hurried away from the criminal courts building, declining absolutely to say one word about the commission's work.

Scope of Inquiry Limited. The most important feature of the day's proceedings was the decision of the commission to limit the scope of its inquiry to the exact language of the state—to determine solely the question as to whether or not Harry Thaw is able today to understand the nature of the court proceedings against him and is able to advise his counsel in a rational manner. District Attorney Jerome announced to the members of the commission that all of the legal experts he had employed in the case had advised him that Thaw is suffering from a typical case of paranoia—a disease of the mind in which the recoveries are limited to two or three per cent. He offered to adduce testimony to support this statement, but the commission waved it aside, saying that the purpose of the inquiry was a very simple one and had to do with any classification of mental diseases, but with the prisoner's present state of mind as judged by laymen.

In laying down this decision the commission confronted the district attorney with the very position he has maintained in putting Thaw on trial for his life. Mr. Jerome contends that Thaw was suffering from paranoia on the night of June 25 last, when he shot and killed Stanford White, but he added that paranoiacs often have knowledge of what they are doing and that Thaw knew the nature and quality of his act in killing White and knew that the act was wrong.

Experts Are Excluded. The commission got under way with a rush Thursday afternoon and plunged at once into the personal examination of the defendant. Mr. Jerome protested at first that he was not able to proceed, saying he would like to have his medical advisers present during Thaw's examination. He finally stated he would have no objection to the examination going forward providing he was permitted to reserve his cross-examination. The commission forthwith settled the matter of the presence of the experts by excluding them from the room along with everyone else, except the defendant and his counsel, the district attorney and Assistant District Attorney Garvan. As to the cross-examination by the district attorney, the commission said the matter would be taken up when it was reached. Thaw will appear again before the commission when it meets Saturday morning.

J., March 29.—William Booth, a conductor on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, reported to the police late Thursday night that while his train was passing through West Boonton he saw a gypsy camp and noticed a child that resembled pictures he had seen of the missing Marvin child.

MARATHON RACES.

Long Distance Stars to Compete at Boston and St. Louis.

Attempts are already being made by the promoters of the two big Marathon races of the country, those held under the auspices of the Boston Athletic association and by the Missouri Athletic club of St. Louis, to secure some of the fast long distance runners and others of the metropolitan district of the A. A. U., whose presence in an athletic event of this kind is always a drawing card and conducive to fast time. The race of the Boston Athletic association is to come first this year, being held on April 10, Patriots' day. This race, which covers twenty-five miles of ground, has been an annual feature of the Boston Athletic association's season since 1897, and in several of the races men belonging to clubs in other cities showed up very well. In 1905 the prize went to Frederick Lorz of the Mohawk Athletic club of New York, who negotiated the quarter-century in 2 hours 38 minutes 43.5 seconds, and without doubt he will enter the race again this year. Others who may also compete against the Bostonians are Billy Frank of the Irish-American Athletic club of New York; Marathon runner in the Olympic games; and Tom Collins of the Xavier Athletic club of New York.

The start will be at noon, one mile beyond the station at Ashland, and the course leads straight through South Framingham, Natick, Wellesley, Newton Tower Falls, etc.

Each man will be accompanied by a bicycle rider, who will give all the necessary assistance. As the railroad runs parallel with the course for the greater part of the distance, every man may feel that the railroad train is handy should he desire to stop. Each man's attendant will see that he is given every attention, and should the runner desire to stop through any cause whatever he will attend to him until he is safely aboard a train or car. Prizes will be given to the first eight men and a souvenir to the following twenty-five men who may finish after the prize winners. Souvenirs will also be presented to each caretaker of all contestants being placed.

The Marathon contest of the Missouri Athletic club will be held on May 4, and several men, among them Dennis Bennett of Hamilton, Canada, who is considered one of the best of the Canadian long distance runners, are already in training for the event. The club hopes to get Tom Longboat, the wonderful Indian runner, as an entrant, but he has made no inquiry.

STARTING POSITION OF TOM LONGBOAT, GREAT INDIAN RUNNER.

regarding the race yet. If nothing is heard from him he may receive an invitation for a race between him and Bennett would be of the greatest interest to long distance men.

S. R. Hatch of Chicago, who ran second in the 1905 race at St. Louis and who won the event last year in 2 hours 40 minutes, has asked for entry blanks and will probably be seen in the race again this year.

In all fully half of last year's roster of sixty competitors have signified their desire to compete again, and a race of merit is assured.

Although nearly fifty years of age, Peter W. Foley of Medford, Mass., will compete in the Marathon race in Boston. The veteran runner is considered by many to have a grand chance to be among the leaders at the end of the twenty-five mile event.

Foley, who is a member of the Boston Athletic association, is an all around athlete. For the past three years he has started in the Marathon race, and although he never won, he always finished strongly.

His appearance on the road from Ashland to Boston on those occasions has always created as much interest and enthusiasm as that of the winner. All along the line he is greeted with cheers. While "the old man," as he is commonly called in New England, is not a sprinter, he is a plodder who was never known to quit. Many times his stamina has enabled him to beat out opponents who were less than half his age.

Last year he finished among the first thirty, and two years ago he came in thirty-second. In that race it took him 3 hours 25 minutes 61.5 seconds to traverse the course. No watch was kept on him last year, but experts say his time was much faster than the year before.

MANY PERISH IN AN AWFUL TRAIN WRECK

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OVERLAND STRIKES OPEN SWITCH.

KNOWN DEAD NUMBER 26

Muncie, Ind., Man One of the Victims—Others Mostly Italians—Disaster Near Colton, Cal.

Colton, Cal., March 29.—A disastrous wreck on the Southern Pacific occurred one and one-half miles east of this town Thursday afternoon, when the west bound Sunset express from New Orleans for San Francisco ran into an open switch while going at the rate of 40 miles an hour, and ten of the 14 coaches were derailed with frightful results. Twenty-six people are known to have been killed, and the final list probably will total much higher than that number. The injured number about 100, many of whom are seriously hurt and may die.

The wrecked coaches were hurled in every direction. Four of them were smashed into splinters. Most of the dead were Italians from New York and New Orleans, going to San Francisco. They occupied the smoker and day coach.

The dead were terribly mangled. Eighteen of them were taken to an undertaking establishment at Colton by eight o'clock, and eight additional bodies could be seen underneath one of the overturned cars. This car could not be raised until a derrick was brought from Los Angeles, 60 miles away.

The injured were carried to this city in vehicles of all sort and the Colton hospital was quickly filled to its capacity. Many were then taken to the Presbyterian church and to private residences.

Two Americans Killed. But two Americans are known to have been killed, although several of those among the injured will probably die within a few hours.

George L. Sharpe, of Muncie, Ind., was instantly killed. The baggage man of the train, whose name has not been ascertained, was also killed. Engineer Clarence E. Wormington and Fireman Victor Crebb both jumped, but failed to get clear, and were caught in the wreckage. They were terribly burned and scalded. John Golden, the train conductor, was in the Pullman section of the train and escaped injury.

Out of about 80 Pullman passengers there were but two sustained serious injury. The three Pullman coaches and the diner, which were on the rear of the train, did not leave the track. The occupants of these cars were practically unharmed. The Florence Roberts theatrical company occupied one coach, which was hurled from the track and both ends of it crushed in by impact against the others. But two members of Miss Roberts' company out of a total of 22 people were injured. Miss Roberts herself escaped entirely unhurt.

The derailment of the train was caused by the crew of a switch engine leaving a switch open. It is said that the engine passed through the switch a few minutes before the Overland appeared. A switchman named Morrison was in the yard. After the switch engine had passed on to another track the engineer asked the fireman if he had re-thrown the switch. The fireman recalled that he had neglected to do so, and the engineer whistled frantically for Morrison to close it. The signal was not given in time, as Morrison did not reach the switch before the Overland had plunged through and been derailed.

The train, which was due in Los Angeles at 7:30, was nearly 12 hours behind time. At the time of the disaster it was running at a high rate of speed in an attempt to make up time.

PAPER-HANGING WITH TACKS.

Pretty Hard to Stump the Right Kind of American Boy.

When Wilbur Nesbit, author of "The Gentleman Ragner," was a boy he lived in a small town in Ohio, and he and his brother one summer concluded that they would establish themselves in business as paper-hangers. The lads were well liked and had plenty of work.

One week they were given the contract to paper the ceiling of a store-room. The ceiling had never been given a "white coat" of plaster, but was smooth-coated with the brown mortar. The boys found that the paper would not adhere to the brown mortar, because the sand in it pulled off and let the paper fall. The owner of the store-room had a hardware store a few doors down the street. Wilbur sauntered into the hardware store and bought ten boxes of black-headed tacks, then strolled back to the place where his brother was contemplating the bothersome ceiling. A consultation was held in undertones, the doors and windows on the street were soon obscured by shades, and the boys resumed work.

That evening the paper was on the ceiling, and pretty paper it was, too. In the design were innumerable dark spots, forming the stamens of gorgeous flowers.

When the hardware man paid the boys for the work, he said:

"But what the dickens did you do with all those tacks?"

First, stowing the money away in his pocket, Wilbur exclaimed: "Oh, we just tacked the paper on the ceiling with them!"—Library Gossip.

THE WORLD'S GREAT MEN.

Voted by Japanese School Children—Washington and Lincoln Lead.

Dr. Yamakawa, formerly president of Tokio University, recently offered to present a picture of a famous man or woman to the Iriye primary school at Higo and asked that a vote of the children should be taken to choose the subject of the portrait. The 343 boys and girls attending the school were consequently requested a day or two ago to write down the name of their favorite great man or woman. Washington and Lincoln came out at the head of the list with 69 and 53 votes, respectively, while Admiral Togo was a bad third with no more than 29. Fourth on the list was Ninomiya San-toku, a famous philanthropist of olden days, who endeavored to construct a canal at Koto at his own cost for the benefit of the people. The fifth was another American, Benjamin Franklin, with 21 votes, and after him came Kusinold Masashige (Nanku), 14; Miss Florence Nightingale, 13; Waga-no Kiyomaro (a famous Japanese loyalist), 12; Marquis Oyama, 11; Nelson, 11; Toyotomi Hideyoshi, 7; Gen. Kodama, 7; Saigo Takamori, 7; Nakaya Toku, 6; Admiral Uriu, 6; Murasaki Shikibu, 5; Bismarck, 5; Sugawara Michizane, 4; Commander Hirose, 4; Napoleon, 4. A few votes each were cast for President Roosevelt, Nijima Jo, Galileo, Columbus, Socrates, Count Katsura, Premier Saionji, Marquis Yamagata, Gen. Nogi, Peter the Great and Admiral Makharoff.

Primary Colors.

Primary colors are the colors into which white light is separated by the dispersion of a prism. Those named by Newton are red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. Artists reduce these to three—red, yellow and blue. Scientists generally consider red, green and blue to represent the primary color sensations, and in one theory there are supposed to be three sets of nerves in the retina which can respond to these three colors. The idea of three primary colors is that from the combination of these three all hues may be produced which are to be found in white light.

Philanthropist's Good Work.

William P. Letchworth, the donor of Glen Iris, the magnificent 1,000-acre estate that has been given to New York, is the originator of what is commonly known as the New York system of almshouse construction. It provides different buildings for the sexes, with an administration building in the center, a service building behind it, all joined by a connecting corridor. Because of his friendship for the Indian cause, he was adopted into the Seneca nation and given the name of "Hei-Wa-ye-is-tah," meaning "the man who always does the right thing."

Prairie Plays Hide-and-Seek.

Some years ago a topographer was sent out from Washington to make a survey of what was then Payne prairie, Florida, a bit of land about 85 miles in extent. The survey was made and the prairie described. Three or four years later a new surveying expedition found that this land had been transformed into a body of water, and it was put on the map as Lake Alachu. It developed that this lake-prairie plays a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde game with itself, sometimes appearing as one and sometimes as the other.

Playing for Safety.

A few weeks ago a negro, of Alabama, entering the witness box, said he thought he wouldn't swear. He thought he would just affirm. "Erastus," said the judge, "how is this? A month ago, when you appeared before me you consented readily enough to be sworn. Why is it you will only be affirmed now?" "Well, yo' honah," said Erastus, "de reason am dat I specks I ain't quite so suro about de facts o' dis case as I was o' de odder."

King's Signature.

Trifling as the actual work of signing his name may seem, yet when the number of times King Edward affixes his signature to documents is considered the work assumes something of the nature of hard, or at least confining, labor. It is estimated that his royal name is signed to not fewer than 50,000 official documents yearly, and in addition to these there are several hundred signatures affixed to his private correspondence.

Before The Footlights.

Has Not Incited Race Violence
"The Clansman," now on its second successful tour of the country, has confounded the predictions of those who prophesied that it would incite race violence or ill-feeling between the whites and blacks. The people have recognized it as a strictly historical picture of the conditions that prevailed in South Carolina two years after the Civil war. There is no reason at the present time for hot-headedness or bad blood over in a more striking way than ever before in the history of the nation, but it has not been a trouble-breeder, and the renewed discussion of the problem will help in one way or another to its solution. "The Clansman" will be seen at the Myers Theatre Saturday, March 30, matinee and evening.

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram," a farcical success of the past few seasons and one that had an excellent run at the Madison Square Theatre, New York, also at the Powers theatre, Chicago, will be presented at the Myers theatre Tuesday, April 2. As a healthy, fun-provoking farce, it is said to be one of the most deserving seen in Janesville for a long time. It is a typical farce-comedy by Frank Wyatt and William Morris, bubbling over with mirth-provoking situations at every turn. It is a succession of complications of the most absurd kind founded on an innocent falsehood originally told by Mr. Temple in order to save himself from the wrath of his wife. The little fib is gradually developed into a lie of terrible proportions, carrying in its wake situations of the most ludicrous kind and involving the happiness of no less events that took place nearly forty years ago. As Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina has well said, no self-respecting negro can take offense at this play which is full of thrilling memories for the white born southerner. Some criticism has been leveled at the author of "The Clansman" for saying that, in the interests of white civilization the negro ought to be peacefully deported to Africa. It is manifestly unfair to condemn "The Clansman" for the personal opinions of its author; opinions, moreover, that have been shared by a number of distinguished southerners, and are held, though to a different reason, by the negro himself. Henry M. Turner of Georgia speaking of his former patriotic purpose, Mr. Dixon recently said: "I am proud of my southern birth and I am proud of my citizenship in New York state. I love every inch of the soil of my country and I every man, woman and child in it, including every negro."

"As a matter of fact," "The Clansman" has drawn the attention of both north and south to the race problem.

each individual effort a distinct feature. Harry Conner as Wilson, the butler, is the feature, if there is one. In make-up and comedy work Mr. Conner is intensely original; he is always in the thick of the battle and his lines are bubbling over with fun. The supporting cast is said to be as strong a combination of talent as could be looked for. Harry Hillard as Jack Temple is very clever. His work shows that he knows how to handle high-class comedy and he never slips on a single situation. Miss Grace Reals as Mrs. Temple is exceedingly clever, and the remainder of the supporting company is equally as clever in every instance.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, March 29, 1867.—New Music.—Hempstead, of Milwaukee, has just issued a charming piece of new music by our fellow townsman, Mr. C. G. Titcomb, entitled "La Petite," which is quite sure to become popular. It is inscribed to Miss Julia Wilson of this city.

The Municipal Election.—The near approach of our charter election naturally makes business lively among office seekers and others who have an interest in the conduct of city affairs. The disastrous fires that have visited Janesville during the past four months, have shown the necessity of a more effectual method of protecting property from the destructive element; and the claims of the candidates for mayor and aldermen are canvassed with reference to the question, as well as to the more liberal and just appropriation for city schools. Three of the wards, hold caucuses at 7 1/2 o'clock this evening, for the purpose of nominating aldermen and school commissioners, and the election should make it a point to be on hand and see that the best men are selected for candidates. The first ward, held its caucus this afternoon and Wm. Tallman was nominated for alderman, H. N. Comstock for school commissioner and George P. Ide for constable.

In the second ward we hear the names of Norcross, Burnham, Barnes and Hodges spoken of as candidates for alderman. In the third Ira Millmore, R. T. Pember and several others are understood to be candidates in place of Mr. Conrad whose term of office expires. Mr. Eldred of the fourth ward goes out and so many want his place that no one dares to say a word in favor of this neighbor lest his own chances should be damaged thereby.

For the mayor there are several aspirants—but we believe the present incumbent leads the van and will be re-nominated.

The democracy in the meantime are laying low and have both eyes open to discover a split in the Republican ranks where they can slip one of their own men in—a thing they will be glad to do if the opportunity is afforded them by any dissensions on our part.

W. A. PROCTOR KILLS HIMSELF.
President of Noted Firm Dies of Self-Inflicted Wound.

Cincinnati, March 29.—William A. Proctor, president of the Proctor & Gamble company and son of one of the firm's founders, died Thursday afternoon from a bullet wound, self-inflicted, at his home in Glendale, a suburb of this city.

Members of the family later admitted that Mr. Proctor committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. It is said he had been suffering from melancholy ever since the death of his wife, four years ago.

Mr. Proctor was widely known in business circles and was a prominent layman in the Protestant Episcopal church, to the institutions of which he was a liberal giver. His wealth was estimated at many millions, most of which had been made by himself. He was noted for the cooperative scheme for a division of profits with employees which he had designed for his company.

MEXICO WILL NOT INTERVENE.
Refuses to Interfere in the Central American War.

Mexico City, March 29.—"Mexico will on no condition join the United States in a joint intervention between Nicaragua and Honduras," was the positive declaration of Minister of Foreign Affairs Mariscal, at the foreign office Thursday.

"This government is ready at any time to join the United States in offering its good offices in friendly mediation, but will go no further. Should President Roosevelt decide to intervene, he will be obliged to act independently, as far as President Diaz is concerned."

Anti-Pass Bill Is Adopted.
Lincoln, Neb., March 29.—Both houses of the legislature Thursday took final action on the railroad anti-pass bill, adopting it by a practically unanimous vote and sending it to the governor. Gov. Sheldon signed the bill for municipal taxation of railroad properties in cities and towns.

Monroe Salisbury's Son Dying.
San Francisco, March 29.—Sidney Salisbury, one of the best known horsemen in this country, is in a dying condition at a local hospital from gas asphyxiation, as a result, it is said, of an attempt to commit suicide. His father is reported to be critically ill in New York.

EVANSVILLE CLUB
WOMEN HAD PICNIC

Up-to-date Organization Enjoyed First Outing at North Side Park.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., March 28.—The first picnic of the season was held by the Tourist Club in the north side park Wednesday afternoon. This was a very unique affair, as it is not customary to hold picnics in this vicinity in the month of March, but the unusually warm, sunny days and balmy air proved irresistible to this up-to-date club. The members took well filled baskets and in addition made coffee and roasted eggs, and all report having enjoyed the affair immensely.

The wedding of Miss Hallie Ames to Mr. Owen L. Jones took place Wednesday evening, March 27, at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marlan Ames of Brooklyn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. A. Ralph of Evansville in the presence of a large number of relatives of the bride and groom. Preceding the ceremony a very beautiful and appropriate solo was rendered by Miss Sadie Ames, a sister of the bride. The wedding march was played by Miss Anna Boyce of Brooklyn and was continued very softly during the ceremony. The ceremony was a bouquet of ferns and carnations. The house was beautifully decorated with potted plants and flowers and after congratulations a three course luncheon was served.

The bride and groom are among our most popular young people. For a number of years the bride has been employed in the Grange Bank and has a host of friends in this city, due chiefly to her charming personality. Mr.
Jones is also an employee in the dry goods department of the Grange store and is a young man of sterling worth.

Among the guests from a distance were: Mr. Robert Templeton and Miss Letta Jones of Chicago, Mrs.
Mac Bevier, La Crosse; Jesse Jones,
Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. James Lay,
Porter; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Comstock,
Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Comstock, Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Ames and family, and Jay N. Ames, of Oregon; Pierce Jamieson and daughter Mary, and John Ames of Poyntne, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Van Wart and Miss Carrie
Blake of Evansville.

As Locke Pierce was making his daily delivery of milk Wednesday morning he left his team standing in the road while he carried some milk to the door of a customer and the horses becoming frightened ran, and as they dashed around the corner of Church and Third streets, the wagon tipped completely over. The horses freed themselves and ran some distance. The damage consisted mostly in the loss of a day's supply of milk and a large number of broken bottles.

ing from Lenox, South Dakota, and SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

RHEUMATISM.

Old Mr. Rheumatism hangs on tight and bites and pinches when he takes hold. It's quite a job to shake him off. It's hard to believe that all the pain and trouble he causes comes from such a little thing. Just a tiny bit of acid in the blood the kidneys haven't Lawrence Tuscany. taken care of. But the kidneys aren't to blame. I used to think they were. Now I know better. It's that overworked and over-crowded stomach giving the kidneys part of its work and the kidneys can't do it. I found this out with Cooper's New Discovery. It puts the stomach in shape, that's all it does, and yet I have seen thousands of people get rid of rheumatism, by taking it. That is why I am positive that rheumatism is caused by stomach trouble. Here is a sample of letters I get every day on the subject.

"For a long time I have been a victim of sciatica and inflammatory rheumatism, and my suffering has been too great to describe. For weeks I lay helpless with every joint in my body so tender and sore that I could not bear to move. The slightest touch would cause me the greatest agony. Several doctors treated me but they failed entirely. I tried many remedies but nothing seemed to reach my case, so I continued to lay helpless. My kidneys and stomach were affected all so. I could eat but little, digest less and gradually my strength left. I lost flesh rapidly."

"I began the use of the famous Cooper medicines of which I heard so much. To my surprise and delight I improved immediately, and after using several bottles I felt like another person. My strength and appetite returned. The pain and soreness left me and now I feel better than I have for months." Lawrence Tuscany, 1122 Aldrich Ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

REVOLT OF PEASANTS IS NOT SUPPRESSED

BUCHAREST SO ALARMED THAT ALL SHOPS ARE CLOSED.

SLAUGHTER AT VLASCHKA

Seventy insurgents are slain by the troops—Authorities are bombarding villages with Artillery.

Bucharest, March 29.—The efforts of the government to suppress the revolt of the peasants have met with only partial success. The troops are now acting with increased energy. A large number of rioters have been killed in the numerous conflicts with the soldiery, but as yet there is no sign of permanent amelioration of conditions. On the contrary, the rioters appear to be becoming bolder and more determined, and the situation undoubtedly is aggravated.

As an indication of the apprehension existing even in the capital, the new prefect of Bucharest, as a measure of precaution, ordered all shops in the city closed. This order created the impression that the rioters were approaching Bucharest and there was wild panic until it was learned that these fears were groundless.

Try to Raid Arsenal. At Tirgovistes, in the Arges district, a band of peasants Wednesday attempted to raid an arsenal and procure a supply of rifles and ammunition. Upon being repulsed by the troops the rioters set fire to many houses in the town.

Several roving bands of peasants in the district of Telcorman were surrounded and brought to bay Wednesday by detachments of troops.

At Vlaschka a band of peasants called upon to disperse refused to do so and opened fire on the troops, whereupon the latter fired three shots at them from a field gun, killing 70 men and wounding many more. According to an unconfirmed version of the encounter, 200 of the peasants were killed.

A squadron of hussars sent to Brabova came in conflict with a band of peasants, and it is reported that 50 of the peasants were killed.

A train running between Bucharest and Komona was stopped by rioters and looted.

Quiet at Jassy. There is a slight improvement in the situation at Jassy. The streets of the city are empty and the shops still shut. The peasants there apparently are overawed by the concentration of troops.

A serious encounter is reported to have taken place at the village of Panahabestie, in which many peasants were killed or wounded.

The bombardment of the three villages in the Vlaschka district, in which rioters had taken refuge, undoubtedly resulted in a very large casualty list, but the exact numbers cannot be learned. It is known, however, that several hundred peasants were arrested there. There have been sanguinary encounters in the district of Dolj, and rumor places the number killed and wounded in encounters with the troops at several hundred.

The authorities are beginning to use artillery to bombard the villages where the rioters take refuge.

The peasants committed terrible atrocities in the Buzoe district, and the troops sent thither had orders to suppress the disturbances at any cost.

WARMING ARBUCKLES SLIGHTLY

MAKES THE GRINDING EASY

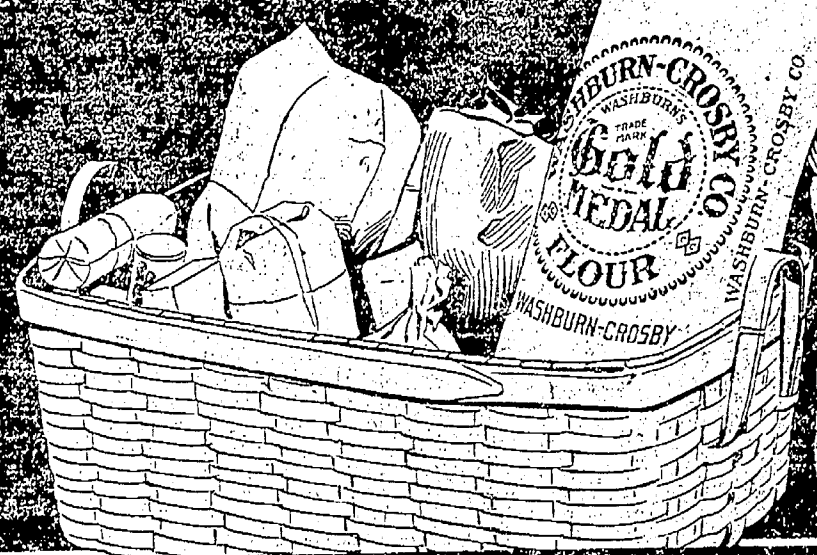

If you want to drink real coffee, buy a sealed package of Arbuckles' ARIOSA and grind it in your own kitchen as you want to use it. Roasted coffee loses its strength and flavor if exposed to the air, and even its identity as coffee after grinding. Loose coffee sold out of a bag, bin or tin is usually dusty and soiled by handling.

Don't take it!
